

HIGHWAY HAZARD—This rock avalanche forced traffic on old Route 611, five miles south of Stroudsburg, to use one lane of the highway. Frank Smith, superintendent of highways in Monroe County, prepares to set up another flare near the debris. The rock came loose from its original position last night during a heavy storm.

100-Ton Rock Avalanche Crashes Near Gap Point

A ROCK-SLIDE, estimated at about 100 tons, crashed down on old Route 611 five miles south of Stroudsburg last night. The incident happened about 6:30. Huge chunks of rock, ranging in various sizes and some measuring 3x5x8 landed at the base of the mountain. The incident happened on the Pennsylvania side of Delaware Water Gap, slightly to the north of "Old Indianhead Mountain." The fall occurred during yesterday's heavy rainfall. The rock debris covered one-lane of the two-lane highway. Frank Smith, Monroe County superintendent of highways investigated the slide. He said that his highway crew will begin removal operations this morning.

One-Lane Traffic

Twenty flares were set up to detour traffic around the one-lane section.

Smith said that the heavy downpour of rain that occurred around the time of the mishap probably caused the rocks to come loose.

The section that fell, was on a near vertical slope. This was part of the many jagged overhanging layers of stratified rock layers.

"It's a wonder that more didn't fall," Smith said while observing the other sections of rocky cliffs.

President Turns His Attention To Congress

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower gave his attention Friday to the forthcoming session of Congress by working at length with Bryce N. Harlow, his chief adviser on Capitol Hill affairs. Eisenhower spent most of the afternoon with Harlow at the summer White House office after playing 18 holes of golf in an intermittent rain. The President carried a red umbrella on part of the round.

viet policy and even raised the specter of an accident which could touch off nuclear war.

Khrushchev's statement that a summit meeting before November seemed impossible appeared to conflict with the latest Soviet policy gesture calling for a meeting of the heads of government of all 82 members of the United Nations when the world organization opens its session in September. The idea has been received with extreme coolness in the United States.

'Impossible' To View New Summit Talks, Says Khrushchev

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev said Friday it seems impossible to envisage a new summit conference in advance of U. S. presidential elections in November. But he hinted he might ask for one thereafter.

The Soviet leader told British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in a letter he would like to discuss "basic issues of our time," such as divided Germany and Berlin, disarmament, a nuclear weapons ban and other cold war issues. He added he sees little prospects for a summit meeting before the American elections.

"If the Soviet government does not meet with understanding later, and if obstacles to agreement on these questions are put up, we shall conclude a peace treaty with the Communist East German Democratic Republic," he said.

The repetition of this warning—threatening to give the East German Communists full authority over access to isolated West Berlin—was made in reply to a July 19 Macmillan letter. Macmillan had expressed concern over So-

Kinfolks Are Democrats, But Nixon Isn't Worried

(EDITOR'S NOTE—Most people recall Vice President Nixon's father was a native of the hill country in southeastern Ohio. The Cincinnati Enquirer sent reporter Margaret Josten to learn more about his kinfolk in this rural area. The Enquirer has made her story available to The Associated Press.)

By MARGARET JOSTEN
Cincinnati Enquirer Reporter

MCARTHUR, Ohio (AP) — The Democratic kinfolk of Vice President Richard M. Nixon live on a hilltop farm near here with two horses, two cows and an assortment of chickens.

But the Republican standard-bearer need not fear opposition from these militant, blood - and - thunder relatives who fiercely defend Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman. Roy Benson Nixon, his wife and son say they will go to the polls in November and cast their first votes for a Republican presidential candidate. "Not because Richard is our relative," they say, "but because we think he's the best."

Frank Nixon, late father of Vice President Nixon, was born in 1878 and raised a few miles south of this county seat in southeastern Ohio in what is known as the Ebenezer community.

Small Community
He grew up in a log house, now covered with gray shingles. The front yard is overgrown with weeds. A short walk down the road from the house is the small, white clapboard church Frank Nixon attended as a boy. An iron bell in the belfry of Ebenezer Methodist church still summons worshippers to Sunday services, funerals and weddings.

Not far from these structures is the 193-acre farm of Roy Benson Nixon.

Hanging beneath his mailbox on Rt. 50, five miles west of town, is a large placard carrying the name "Nixon," written with a flourish of calligraphy.

Richard Wayne Nixon, 40, sawmill operator and farmer, lounges against his old-model automobile a few yards up in the dirt driveway.

"Richard Milhous Nixon and I are sons of first cousins," he says after coming forward and extending his hand in a friendly grip. "But I expect you'll be wanting to see Pa about that."

He summons Roy Nixon from a patch of vegetable garden across the way. "Hey Pa, the sheriff's come to serve a warrant on you," the son calls jokingly.

The elder Nixon straightens up and approaches his visitors slowly. He is 79 years old, going on 80. But his eyes beneath a peaked straw hat are young, alert, full of pride.

"I'd be the vice president's second cousin because I'm a full first cousin to his father," announces the old man as he leads the way into the house.

It comes from Mrs. Nixon, wife of Roy. She is hot and tired after a day in the kitchen canning quart jars of pickles and green beans.

"We're Democrats," she announces, mopping perspiration from her forehead with the end of an apron. "But we're certainly going to vote for Richard. It seems to me he's fitted for the job."

Roy Nixon carries in the pocket of his blue denim a long list showing family marriages, births and deaths.

Was War Vet

It shows that George Nixon III fought with the United States in the Civil War and died of wounds he received in the Battle of Gettysburg. He left nine children, including Samuel Brady Nixon, father of Frank, and Hiram Nixon, father of Roy.

Samuel Brady Nixon was a mail carrier, farmer, school teacher and carpenter. His children were Wadsworth, Frank, Ernest, Hugh, Carrie and Irene.

Frank worked as a hand on Vinton farms as a young man. At one point he and his cousin, Roy, went to Columbus, Ohio, where they became street car conductors.

Frank later moved to Whittier, Calif., where he met and married Hannah Milhous.

Roy returned to Vinton County. Folks along the main stem of this town have had a lot to talk about since Richard Milhous Nixon first burst into national prominence.

Pentagon 'Assumes' U. S. Agents Behind 'Curtain'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department said Friday it "must be assumed that there is a likelihood" that two missing employees of a top secret intelligence agency "have gone behind the Iron Curtain."

The Pentagon, breaking several days' silence on the whereabouts of Bernon F. Mitchell and William H. Martin, confirmed earlier reports that the two employees of the National Security Agency had flown to Mexico City, thence to Cuba. They had informed the agency that they planned to take a vacation trip to the western United States.

The Defense Department said that Mitchell "was under psychiatric treatment immediately prior to the time he left" for Mexico on June 24.

The department also disclosed that Mitchell and Martin had visited Mexico and Cuba last December. This trip came to light only after intelligence officers began an investigation last month when the two failed to return for duty at the expiration of their scheduled vacation.

Neither the written statement nor the Defense Department's official spokesman cast any further light on the department's conclusion that, "As a result of the investigation so far it must be assumed that there is a likelihood that they have gone behind the Iron Curtain."

The Pentagon's statement said that the investigation "indicates that information in their possession if revealed could in no way be prejudicial to the security of the United States' communications."

The Pentagon said further that neither of the two had "access to classified information about American weapons or defense plans."

Mitchell and Martin were mathematicians. The Pentagon's announcement Friday said they were "employed in limited areas of communications statistical work" at the security agency.

This agency, which normally operates under the closest security and secrecy, is responsible for monitoring the air waves, picking up virtually every signal or message transmitted by electrical or radio means and is heavily involved in recording and analyzing anything that might be a code.

The two men were first reported missing last Monday. They joined the National Security Agency in 1957.

Both had served in the Navy for four years as communications technicians.

The agency is located at Ft. Meade, Md., one of the largest Army installations in this area.

Soviet Seeks UN Removal

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government called Friday for removal of the U.N. Congo command unless all Belgian troops are pulled out of the Congo—including Katanga Province. It termed "very alarming the behavior of the U.N. forces command."

The Soviets also declared that if present U.N. forces in the Congo do not bring about withdrawal of Belgian troops, soldiers should be sent to the Congo from "countries which would be ready to contribute to the implementation of this just act."

The Soviet government declaration, distributed by the official news agency Tass, said the situation in the Congo is "absolutely intolerable." It called Belgian soldiers in the Congo "interventionist troops" and referred again to "aggression" it said had been launched against the Congo.

The "token withdrawal of an insignificant part of the interventionist troops, now under way, is a maneuver calculated to soothe and mislead public opinion," the statement said. It also declared the authority of the U.N. is being undermined.

Strict Measure

Declaring the Soviet Union is for strict and effective measures to ensure the early fulfillment of Security Council decisions on the Congo, Tass said the Soviet Union proposed: "to evacuate in the shortest possible time all the Belgian troops from the territory of the Republic of the Congo, not hesitating to use any means to bring this about."

"If the present command of the troops continues refusing to abide by the Security Council decisions, which make it binding on this command to act only in agreement with the government of the Republic of the Congo and to render it the necessary military support, this command should be removed and a new one appointed. . . ."

Hearing Ordered

UN Recalls Troops To Avert Threat

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Faced with a threat of bloodshed, the United Nations Friday suddenly called off plans to send U.N. troops into secessionist province of Katanga.

U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld made the hard decision and called an urgent meeting of the Security Council on the turbulent Congo situation. The Council will meet at 8 p.m. Sunday in New York.

Hammarskjöld was flying back to New York Friday night aboard a special U. N. plane to attend the Council session.

The cancellation of the plan to move a U. N. force into Katanga Saturday came in a day of swiftly moving developments.

A 20-man U.N. advance party was barred from leaving its plane in Elisabethville, the Katanga capital. The group had been scheduled to prepare the way for U.N. troops to move in at dawn Saturday.

Instead the U.N. party returned here, accompanied by Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche, who had rushed to Elisabethville Wednesday to confer with leaders of the province on the withdrawal of Belgian troops and their replacement by a U. N. force.

Hold Conference

On his return here, Bunche went immediately into a conference with Hammarskjöld. The announcement that U. N. troops would not be dispatched to Katanga came two hours later.

U.N. officials said that during his stay in Elisabethville Bunche had become convinced that any U.N. entry into Katanga could not be accomplished without bloodshed.

These officials said the difficult problem confronting Hammarskjöld was that he had not the right to risk the lives of soldiers offered by their countries to the U.N. Congo force for police action only.

The Katanga government also had set up a simple but effective front-line defense against arrivals of U.N. troops: a ready plan to blockade the airfield at Elisabethville with vehicles, oil drums and other gear to prevent plane landings. Gunfire also was threatened against unauthorized plane landings.

Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba left Rabat, Morocco, during the night for Conakry, Guinea, on his round-about journey home from the United States and Canada. Even before the word came that U.N. troops would not be sent to Katanga as scheduled, Lumumba had sent off a protest to Ham-skjöld over Bunche's meetings of Katanga. Lumumba maintained Tshombe does not represent the central government and has no right to deal directly with the U.N.

Revenue Agents Raid Terminal

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — Thirty Internal Revenue Service special agents raided alleged gambling places Friday in Scranton and Oliphant.

Richard P. Brownell, Scranton IRS district collector, said the raids were at the Greyhound Bus Terminal, Electric City Lunch and Jim's Clear Store, Scranton, and at the Mid-Valley Restaurant, Oliphant.

The government will press charges of operating gambling establishments without obtaining special U.S. tax stamps.

Arrest Ex-Beauty Queen For Beating Son

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Leona Gage, who once won the Miss U.S.A. title by keeping quiet about a husband and two children, Friday pleaded innocent to a charge of mistreating her son.

David Ennis, 5, whom she is accused of striking with a belt, played happily at home blowing bubbles while his mother went to court, she said.

Her past caught up with her again Thursday when newsmen learned that the Leona Covacevich, 21, being booked on charges of "endangering a child's life" was the same tall, brunette beauty who made headlines in 1957.

Former Titlist

At that time Miss Gage, of Maryland, held the Miss Universe pageant's Miss U.S.A. title for just 24 hours. Then her marriage became known.

She has three children, two sons by her first husband, Air Force Sgt. Gene Ennis, and a son by her present husband, Nicholas Covacevich, a dancer.

She asked a jury trial, set for Sept. 29, and obtained a court-appointed attorney, saying she couldn't afford to hire one.

VICTORY RIDE—Sen. Estes Kefauver is hoisted high on shoulders of supporters for a victory ride into his headquarters at Nashville, Tenn., after smashing win at the polls against Judge Andrew Taylor for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate. (AP Wirephoto)

Estes' Lopsided Victory Causes Mixed Reactions

By The Associated Press

THE LOPSIDED renomination of liberal-minded Sen. Estes Kefauver in the Tennessee Democratic primary was described variously Friday as the start of a new liberal Southern movement and as of no general significance.

Comment followed regional lines for the most part. But there was little indication the victory reflected a trend toward acceptance of desegregation in the South.

Significantly, several Deep South governors and Democratic party leaders either declined comment or were unavailable for comment.

Robert Humphreys, chairman of the Kentucky Democratic State Council Executive Committee, said the tall Tennesseean's win over Judge Andrew T. Taylor, a segregationist, "indicates a new liberalism in the South and especially do I think it indicates the South will go along with the ticket."

However, Gov. Bert Combs of Kentucky found little significance in Kefauver's renomination for a third term. "It is more of a tribute to Kefauver's taking a stand on the side of the so-called little man," he said.

Lt. Gov. Paul Johnson of Mississippi said flatly that Tennessee has not been a trend-indicator state for the past 100 years.

Kefauver himself said the vote "makes it clear that detractors of the South, who tried to say that we are a backward people, have been proven wrong. The South will continue to move forward with the mainstream of American civilization."

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), assistant majority leader of the Senate, said Kefauver's renomination "improves the prospects for our presidential ticket in November not only in Tennessee, but throughout the South and the nation as a whole."

He is to hold an airport news conference at Seattle during a one- or two-hour stopover en route to Washington, where he is due Saturday morning.

Republican Gov. William F. Quinn, Lt. Gov. James Keeloh, GOP party leaders and a small group of spectators saw the Nixon off.

Is Essential

Nixon's main theme during his campaign in Hawaii was that the president should assume direct control of American foreign policy.

"It is essential," the vice president said, "that the president directly assume control and command of the nonmilitary aspects of the world struggle."

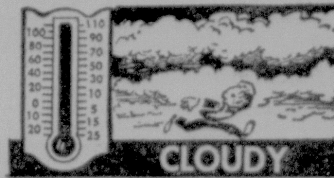

The dead were trooper Francis J. Tessitore, 28, of Hazleton, attached to the Plymouth Meeting Barracks, and James A. Mullin, 26, an insurance salesman, of Lansdowne.

The truck driver was William E. Heinrichs, of Jamison.

Lesson For Today, God's Love For Children

By Newman Campbell

"When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called My son out of Egypt."—Hosea 11:1.

"This is the third time that Hosea reminds Israel of her earliest days of that youthful time when God called her out of Israel and led her through the wilderness."—The Rev. Dr. Wilbur M. Smith in Peloubet's Select Notes.

It would seem that after God had shown His people that He loved and cared for them, that the Israelites would be true to Him and worship only Him, but when false prophets called them "they sacrificed unto Baalim, and burned incense to graven images."—Hosea 11:2.

"I taught Ephraim (another name for Israel) also to go, taking them by their arms; but they knew not that I healed them."—Hosea 11:3.

"I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love; and I was to them as they that take off the yoke of their jaws, and I laid meat unto them."—Hosea 11:4.

For their punishment God said: "He shall not return into the land of Egypt, but the Assyrian shall be his king, because they refused to return. And the sword shall abide on his cities, and shall consume his branches, and devour them, because of their own counsels. And My people are bent to backsliding from Me; though they called them to the most High, none at all exalt Him."—Hosea 11:5-7.

"How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? how shall I deliver thee, Israel? Mine heart is turned within Me, My repentings are kindled together."—Hosea 11:8.

Then the Lord said: "I will not execute the fierceness of Mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim; for I am God, and not man; the Holy One in the midst of thee; and I will not enter into the city."—Hosea 11:9.

"They shall walk after the Lord: He shall roar like a lion; when He shall roar, then the children shall tremble."—Hosea 11:10.

"Ephraim compasseth Me about with lies, and the house of Israel with deceit; but Judah yet ruled with God, and is faithful with the saints."—Hosea 11:12.

Believe in God's goodness and in His love for us. Love and worship Him, carrying out the teaching of Christ Jesus, loving others as yourself. Then you will be doing your part in the fulfillment of God's will, says evangelist Oral Roberts in God Is a Good God.

Rev. Stimson speaks Sunday

AT THE Stroudsburg Methodist Church on Sunday morning, Rev. Roger C. Stimson will preach on the "Fidelity of Jesus." One of the great impressions of the Passion Play of 1960 comes from the manner in which the "Christus" reveals the purpose of God. This is the theme of the Morning Service.

At the 7:30 p.m. Vesper Service, Rev. Stimson will speak of the Passion Play, its setting, music and characters as well as the text of the play itself.

During the 11 a.m. Service, solos will be sung by Miss Jeanne Gurr and Robert Krandon. Mrs. Harold Treble will play the organ in accompaniment of solos and hymns and render three organ numbers.

Rev. Ross N. Nicholson will assist in the service and lead the Junior Church program for the children.

The Church-time Nursery for the younger children will be conducted by Mrs. Robert Ford. Memorial Flowers will be given in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Salathe by their family.

The Church Commission on Education will meet at 7:00 p.m. on Monday.

Every great man is always being helped by everybody; for his gift is to get good out of all things and all persons.—John Ruskin.

Rev. Robert Bower Speaker At Presbyterian Church

TOMORROW the First Presbyterian Church of Stroudsburg, will have as its guest speaker Rev. Robert Bower, pastor of the Harundale Presbyterian Church, Glen Burnie, Md.

Rev. Bower was formerly assistant pastor at the First Presbyterian Church in Allentown.

Prior to his service there he served as a combat pilot in Germany during World War II. He is a graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary. The Harundale Presbyterian Church is only twelve years old. It is comparatively new and has made great strides under Mr. Bower's leadership.

Rev. Bower will preach on the topic "Some Practical Spiritual Wisdom" with his Scripture lesson taken from Galatians.

The Senior Choir will sing an anthem under the direction of Mrs. Robert Wolbert. The service will be broadcast over Station WVPO.

A nursery and kindergarten will be conducted during the church hour for the convenience of parents with small children.

At 9:45 a.m. the Church School will convene with classes for children two years old and above, for young people and adults.

Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. the Board of Trustees will hold their postponed meeting.

Rev. John A. Bollier, is vacationing during the month of August with his family in New York State and Canada. In his absence guest speakers will be in the pulpit.

Sunday, August 14 Dr. John Oliver Nelson, professor at Yale Divinity School and Founder of Kirkbridge Retreat Center, near Bangor, will speak.

August 21 the speaker will be Dr. Peter K. Emmons, former pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church in Scranton.

August 28 the speaker will be Joachem van der Bent, librarian and faculty member of the Bangor, Maine, Theological Seminary.

Rev. James Wright, missionary or fraternal worker under the Commission on Ecumenical Mission and Relations of the United Presbyterian Church, will be the speaker at tomorrow morning's worship services of the Middle Smithfield-Shawnee Presbyterian parish.

The morning worship service at the Middle Smithfield Church at Echo Lake will begin at 9:45 a.m. while the worship service at the Shawnee Church will be conducted at 11:15 a.m.

Rev. and Mrs. Wright recently returned from Brazil where they have been associated with the work of the Instituto Ponte Nova. Theirs is a thrilling story of God's blessing among the people of this South American country.

The Wrights, who have now spent two terms of service in Brazil, are in the United States for a one year furlough, before returning to their work again.

Wright is a son of missionary parents. Mrs. Wright is well known locally as the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cole of East Stroudsburg, and is a member of the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church. The Wrights have five children.

Both the Middle Smithfield and the Shawnee Presbyterian Churches are a part of a group of churches supporting the work of the Wrights in Brazil.

Sunday School will be in session at the Shawnee Church at 10 a.m., with the Middle Smithfield Sunday School meeting at 10:50 a.m. Classes are provided at both churches for children, young people, and adults.

Rev. Wesley Crowther, following a two week vacation, will return for tomorrow morning's worship services.

Rev. Paul Deiner is guest speaker

SAYLORSBURG—Rev. Harold Ulmer, pastor of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, will present a guest speaker at the worship service Sunday at 9:30 a.m., Rev. Paul Deiner, Palmyra, N.Y., a schoolmate of Rev. Ulmer.

"When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called My son out of Egypt," said God.—Hosea 11:1.

The prophets warned them, but the Israelites sacrificed to Baalim and burned incense to graven images.—Hosea 11:2.

"They shall walk after the Lord; He shall roar like a lion . . . the children shall tremble."—Hosea 11:10.

In spite of lies and deceit, "Judah yet ruleth with God, and is faithful."—Hosea 11:12.

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Hosea 11.

Christian Science Services

MANKIND'S opportunity to awaken to God-given freedom will be emphasized at all Christian Science churches next Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon on Spirit which continues the current series bringing out the nature, essence, and wholeness of God.

The accounts in Acts of the imprisonment and deliverance of Paul and Silas will be related in the Scriptural readings.

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" of which Mary Baker Eddy is the author will include "Discerning the rights of man, we cannot fail to foresee the doom of all oppression. Slavery is not the legitimate state of man. God made man free, Paul said, 'I was free born! All men should be free. Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.' Love and Truth make free, but evil and error lead into captivity."

You are invited to attend the service at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Corner of Monroe and Eighth Sts., Stroudsburg at 11 a.m.

Rev. Reagle Is Guest At Zion Church

THE MORNING service at Zion United Church of Christ, beginning at 8:45, will have a guest speaker, Rev. John O. Reagle, D. D., of Mt. Bethel.

Dr. Reagle is past President of the East Pennsylvania Synod and was for many years Pastor at the Stone Church in Mt. Bethel. The church welcomes Dr. Reagle in the absence of the vacationing Rev. Joseph Carr.

A Quartette, composed of Charlotte Transue, Faith Argue, Victor Koch and Clarence Transue will sing "Meditation."

The Ushers will be Robert Altomero, James Agins, Sr., Edwin Marsh and Zacharias Malenkov.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Rarick will serve as the morning greeters and Mrs. George Stoekle will have charge of the nursery.

Flowers will be placed in the church by the Clark family in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clark Sr.

The Annual Sunday School picnic will be held August 13 at the Presbyterian Brainerd Center. Every one is welcome and urged to attend activities starting at 2:30 with swimming and games, following with a covered dish supper at 6 p.m.

The day will close with vesper services conducted by the young people of the Church.

Rev. Smiley's Message, "Loaves And Fishes" provided by Deloyce Watkins. The sermon topic at the Tobehanna Methodist Church to be delivered by Rev. Thomas N. Smiley at the 11 a.m. service tomorrow. Special music will be provided by Deloyce Watkins.

Dr. L. D. Warren Speaks Saturday

DR. L.D. WARREN will occupy the pulpit of the Seventh-day Adventist church today at 9:30 a.m. for the Sabbath worship hour. He will be taking the place of Rev. M.T. Reiber, who is on vacation.

Dr. Warren has chosen as a topic for his message "The Two Ways", and will use as his key text Deuteronomy "I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing; therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live."

The Warrens spent a number of years as missionaries to the Philippine Islands. He is the author of the book "Isles of Opportunity". At present Dr. Warren is professor of social studies at the East Stroudsburg State College and serves as chaplain of that institution.

The sabbath school classes will begin at 10:45 and will discuss the sixth lesson on the Law of God, "Creations Memorial".

The lesson will teach that all who keep the seventh day recognize the creative power of God by the fact that He sanctified the day as His memorial of Creation.

The universality and perpetuity of the Sabbath will also be studied in the light of its institution by God at creation.

The Sabbath as a sign of allegiance in this life as well as its observance in the new earth, will be studied from the scriptures.

The "Story Hour" for area children will be held today between 3 and 4 p.m.

Visitors are welcome at all Adventist services.

Rev. John O'Neill's Theme "Hollowness Of Prayer"

THE Chancel Choir of the Canadensis Methodist Church will sing two anthems at the morning worship service under the direction of Mrs. Donald Price. Accompanying the choir and leading in congregational music is George Bisset.

Rev. John D. O'Neill, pastor, will preach a sermon on "Hollowness of Prayer." It is an attempt to meet the claim that prayer brings success.

Regular sessions of the Church School are conducted throughout the summer months with a complete staff of teachers on hand. Classes are available for persons of all ages.

Adults will find the Adult Bible Class of special interest, Mrs. Hester Buehl of Skypot is the teacher. Several young men working in the area assist in the children and youth departments, they are: Gilbert Davis, Clyde Roberts, and Clair Houtz.

Ample parking is available for persons who are driving. Nursery facilities for the care of children up to seven years of age is provided in the Church Cottage while parents attend morning worship.

A mid-week service of worship is conducted every Thursday evening at the McComas Chapel, located on Route 290 four miles south of Canadensis, at 8 p.m. Gospel song service, brief meditation, characterize this informal meeting of Christians. Visitors are welcomed.

Dorothy Thomas To Be Guest Soloist

GUEST soloist Sunday will be Miss Dorothy Thomas of Atlantic City, N.J., at the 11 a.m. worship service in the Mount Pocono Methodist Church. Mrs. Joseph Williams, organist will play, "Prelude," "Andante" and "Postlude."

"The Dignity of Stewardship" will be the theme of the sermon, as Rev. James Mort continues his series of messages based upon "The Ten Commandments."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Proverbs	18	10
Monday	Psalms	53	1-2
Tuesday	Proverbs	29	25-26
Wednesday	Luke	17	33
Thursday	John	14	1
Friday	John	15	7-8
Saturday	Ephesians	3	19-20

A desperate run . . . a frantic slide . . . the feel of the bag against your cleats . . . the belated tap of the shortstop's glove. Then a voice, clear, certain . . . final!

And though the cheers may be laced with hoots and screams of disapproval, you're safe. And nothing can change that fact!

Equally dramatic — and far more important — is the adventure that brings earnest men and women into the Church.

There is a point when we realize the inertia of half-believing. We plunge forward desperately, leaving behind yesterday's skepticism, seeking frantically the Truth that promises meaning and purpose for our life.

Then there's the thrilling moment — the dust of wordly confusion still all around us — when we know in our hearts we have found our faith. And always, above the strains of the organ, even above the clamor of a world unconvinced, there is a Voice, clear, certain . . . final — confirming our Faith.

You might get the impression these days that to be a "liberal" is all the rage, and that to be a "conservative" is to be obsolete. Few politicians would willingly put on the "conservative" tag, even though they may think and vote conservatively, because of the poor "image" it might create in the voter's mind.

It is a surprise, therefore, to run across a Gallup Poll in which voters were asked would they consider themselves "liberals" or "conservatives" if we had parties by those names instead of the familiar Republicans and Democrats.

Well, 56 per cent of the voters simply didn't know what a liberal or conservative was, and were excused from further quizzing. (Where have they been?)

The brighter 44 per cent were tabulated. Of these, 51 per cent said they were "conservatives," and 49 per cent

"liberals." The majority simply didn't worry about what kind of image this gave them.

There was more to the Gallup report, because it broke down the results geographically. Only in the Northeast did the liberals outnumber the conservatives, 58 per cent to 42.

It might seem odd that the oldest and economically most mature section of the country should be unique in this respect.

The booming South was "conservative," 55 percent to 45 per cent. The growing Midwest was 58 per cent conservative. And the rapidly expanding Far West was evenly divided.

This pretty well disposes of the notions that the liberals are found among the active, up-to-the minute citizens and that the conservatives are the moss-backs.

Opinions Of Other Editors

Foreign Goods A Serious Threat

In his letter to employees of the struck Alcoa plant at Cressona, A. J. Stewart, works manager, pointed the other day to the increasingly serious foreign competition that is threatening aluminum.

Stewart was simply calling attention to a condition that day by day becomes more and more a problem for all types of American industry.

Steel is being hard hit. It is losing its market not only in the imported foreign structural type that is going up in buildings everywhere throughout the nation—including Pottsville—but also in the steel represented in the foreign autos now being sold in this country.

All that steel is costing thousands of jobs.

The camera industry, the radio and TV industry, the firearms industry all have had thousands of workers laid off because of foreign competition. What hurts the firearms industry particularly—to the point that we may lose most of our skilled firearms makers—is the obsolete military firearm now flooding American markets, imported by Americans out to make an easy buck.

Look at the way imported pottery has hurt the American pottery industry. Look how foreign coal has hit our miners.

Walk into any store and see the imported products that are coming here to hurt us as Americans while at the same time we are giving away our billions in foreign aid—to create the very conditions that bring on this competition.

And the goods you see in the stores are only a small portion of what could be imported. Local stores for the most part refuse to touch the textiles—shirts, dresses, etc. — that could be brought here and sold at prices lower than they can be made in America.

Our merchants are mindful of the many shirt workers here and the importance of their wages in the economy of the region.

If this importation program continues it will mean chaos for America. Some of our top leaders are aware of the danger as witness the Mason-Bailey bill which has been introduced in Congress.

This bill would restore to the Tariff Commission the right to fix tariffs on goods imported here, taking it away from the starry-eyed State Department that is now in control. It would once more fix tariffs that would curb this flow of cheap goods.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Rights Of Majority

Richard G. Lee, the Mayor of New Haven, who was undoubtedly elected to maintain law and order, to keep the streets clean and to prevent riots and mayhem, has come up with the brilliant idea that those who are unhappy about conditions in this unfriendly world, particularly minorities, should "sit-out."

This man means that the minorities should sit out on the streets, blocking traffic, so that all would thus know that demonstration is being held by any group that regards itself as a minority.

But what about the majority of decent, hard-working citizens who are attending to their own affairs? What about the grocer whose doorway is blocked by the sifter-outers? What about the worker who is driving in a car to his or her place of work? What about the doctor or the ambulance or, for that matter, the funeral procession?

Apparently, the Mayor of New Haven is preaching total abstinence from law and order. It is a concept of non-resistance which Leo Tolstoy and later Gandhi advocated as a means of enforcing their views.

But non-resistance can be a means of destruction which needs to be dealt with a fire hose or some other means of safeguarding the peaceful majority against an obstreperous minority.

Too much, these days, do the politicians, particularly of large, heterogeneous cities tend to ignore the rights of the law-abiding, the decent, the respectable, in the interest of a few exhibitionists who declare themselves to be a minority and therefore demand special privileges.

The right to petition for the redress of grievances is guaranteed in the Constitution which also guarantees a republican form of government and the latter cannot exist without majority rule.

In a city like New York, for example, the politicians calculate their control of men in terms of minorities. What percentage will they get of the Negro vote or the Puerto Rican vote or the Jewish or Italian vote?

It used to be that they concerned themselves with the German vote but the Germans switched from sauerkraut to Liberty Cabbage and have become so thoroughly assimilated that they are now part of the majority.

Thus the process of assimilation moves along. Minorities become part of the majority. The Negro is barred from assimilation by the distinction in color although more and more, on New York streets, one sees mixed black and white couples.

New Haven's Mayor was surely not concerned about his own city where these problems are not very intense. But imagine what would happen if anyone were fool enough to take his advice in New York and picked Fifth Avenue or Times Square as the place to experiment with a sit-out.

Probably a few hundred persons would be killed to start with. How many would be squashed, it cannot be estimated. The Mayor apparently does not concern himself with the consequence of his ideas.

That is so true of so many bright young men who come up with ideas — sharp, smart concepts that sound so good when first spoken and that bring misery to so many people. It is like those older men and women, of all sorts of shapes and sizes who see youth dress in shorts and short-skirts and shirts sticking out of their trousers and who wear no neckties and no jackets.

So they say, "Let's be young! Let's dress like the kids!" So they do that and disgrace the kids. One must have form and figure to wear shorts or short-skirts. One needs youth to wear a tieless shirt. It just does not become an older person.

It looks wrong. It feels wrong. It gives the impression of carelessness. What is perfect on a girl with slender legs and tender hips is a horror on a woman whose gams resemble the legs of a baby elephant and whose figure seems to have been settled by age.

Enough! It is all part of the New Haven Mayor's idea — say it is right because it is, for the moment, popular. Say that anything is right. The other day I was listening to Beethoven's Ninth at Tanglewood and my eyes fell upon some men and women who were dressed as though they were on their way to a jazz festival. They looked so out of place. I could only think of them going to church in pajamas.

Marv Abel, the ex-East Stroudsburg fire chief, is willing to give out his secret on how to deflate tires in 10 easy lessons. That's if the inquisitive person wishes to ride with the former fire conquerer from Eastburg to Analomink.

That's right, it takes that long to prove Marv's formula for making tires flat.

The story making the rounds is that Abel and a cohort decided to ramble up to Analomink on a 'cycle. When they had reached the halfway mark the pair figured there was too much air in the tires.

Being conscientious they dutifully went about to let down the ballooned wheels. However, there must have been a catch or a "leak" because before they reached their destination the two tires went as flat as the road.

Moral of Story—Don't let air out unless you have some wind to back it up.

Could be a switch in the coming election with Nelson, a die hard Republican, and Senator Clark, a hard core Democrat.

If the lady of the house prevails the Pennsylvania senator may go over to the side of the New York governor. Don't bet on it though.

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennett Cerf

Definitely bound for big things in the world of finance is the tireless youth who spent an entire week going from store to store in midtown Manhattan changing a dollar bill into two half dollars, the half dollars into four quarters, the quarters into ten dimes, the ten dimes into twenty nickels, and the nickels into a hundred pennies.

Directly he had the hundred pennies, he reversed the process, ending up with a dollar bill again in his jeans. His boss ventured to inquire what on earth his object was.

"Some day," explained the crafty youth, "somebody is going to make a mistake — and it isn't going to be I."

A native of Los Vegas, making his first visit to Coney Island, was entranced with the merry-go-round, sat watching it intently for a full hour. Finally he was led over to the operator and remarked, "New York parents must be out of their minds, gambling away their children like that!"

Occupational Assessments

Dear Mr. Editor:

Can you give me an answer to a question? I've been to the tax collector he sends me to the court house and they send me to the tax assessor. No one knows the answer.

Why is a clerk, who, everyone knows is the lowest paid person in the working class, assessed at $300 when a laborer is assessed at $200?

Who determines the amount that each classification should be charged? This is a very unfair way of taxing and should be looked into.

Let's hear from more of you clerks and your views on this situation. Also, why does the assessor have the authority to class a person on the hearsay of a neighbor and not contact the person himself?

If a person is not home when the assessor comes around, should he come back to see you or ask the neighbors your business and take their information as a final word.

Appeals For Blood

Dear Mr. Editor:

In Monroe County, any resident is privileged to obtain free blood from the General Hospital. This privilege is extended because of the efforts of a few citizens who keep the blood pipelines full.

Most people, this is an old, old song. Through complacency, these same people no longer listen to that song. Perhaps the kind of shock that would jolt them back to realism would be for the Red Cross to suspend the blood bank facilities for six months.

Then Mr. Average Citizen would pay $40 to $50 per pint of blood — he would have to keep his fingers crossed hoping that blood could be obtained in time to save his loved one's life — he would have to go out and solicit donors to replace the blood required on a basis of two pints replaced for every pint used! Not a very pretty picture, is it?

Wake up, Monroe Counties — quit depending on the other fellow to carry out your obligation to the Red Cross Blood Bank. Picture in your mind the operating table in the General Hospital that contains the form of one of your loved ones — or yourself.

That bottle suspended on the edge of the table feeding blood into that form — that rekindling of the spark of life is there because somebody took the little bit of time and effort to make it available! Was that somebody you or your neighbor?

This month's Blood Drive is being held on August 11 at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Call HA 1-6336 to pledge your donation — or sit back and continue letting others carry your share of the load. It's your decision and your conscience — not the other fellow's!

The Allen-Scott Report

Epic Space Launching

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott
Washington — A momentous step is about to be taken in the epic man-in-space program.

The National Space Administration will attempt to hurl a "dummy astronaut" into space some time this month, possibly as early as next week.

The manikin will be blasted aloft in a Project Mercury space capsule atop one of the Army's reliable Redstone ballistic missiles. This eventful launching, officially designated MR-1, will be from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

If all goes well, the "dummy astronaut" will soar to a height of 125 miles and travel some 200 miles down the Atlantic missile range.

Much depends on the outcome of this experiment. It will largely depend on the scheduling of a similar test with a live monkey.

Tentative plans call for this "space shot" (designated MR-2) to be made in October.

Whether any attempt will be made this year to fire a man into space — in a Project Mercury capsule that will be used in the rigorous MR-1 and MR-2 tests.

President Eisenhower is personally closely following the progress of these plans.

Dr. T. Keith Glennan, head of the Space Administration, has been told by the President that he hopes the U.S. will succeed in putting a man into space while he is still in office.

"I would like to wind up this historic achievement," the President said.

Sen. Thruston Morton, Ky., national chairman, and other Republican campaign leaders are making no secret of their fervent hope that an effort will be made to fire a man into space before the Nov. 8 election.

A spectacular success of this kind, they feel, would be a tremendous ballot boost.

Concurrently with the Redstone-Mercury tests, the Space Administration is also conducting a series of Mercury space capsule experiments with Air Force intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Designated MA-1, MA-2, etc., the next are slated for September and October.

Tentatively, MA-4 or MA-5 will carry a live monkey into orbit in November or December.

For these activities, the Space Administration has $108 million in its new budget. Estimated overall cost of the history-making man-in-space program is approximately $500 million.

Other Space Flashes — This year proved to be an easy one for the Ice Patrol. It had to keep an eye on less than 100 icebergs, in contrast to 685 in 1959. The year before that was a record breaker with only 14 icebergs being recorded past latitude 48 degrees N. Since the turn of the century, as many as 1,900 icebergs have drifted past that latitude in 1904, 1909, 1912, 1920 and 1945. Ten or fewer bergs came down past this line in 1940, 1941 and 1951.

You will soon be hearing about the Navy's remarkable new undersea vehicle which will give scientists the greatest freedom they have ever had for scrutinizing the vast depths of the ocean. Called RUM, for Remote Underwater Manipulator, the vehicle is a remote-controlled tank equipped with a long, jointed manipulator arm and hand, and specially devised underwater television cameras that serve as eyes for the scientists on shore.

Developed under the direction of Dr. Victor Anderson, of the Scripps Institution of Oceanography, La Jolla, Calif., the experimental vehicle is now undergoing extensive underwater tests.

Social Whirl — While newly-independent Belgian Congo is gripped in violence and chaos, two other African countries have been celebrating anniversaries with lavish parties in Washington.

In honor of the 68th birthday of Ethiopia's Emperor Haile Selassie, his Ambassador Imru held a reception that featured two huge birthday cakes and two giant buffet tables. It was the Ethiopian diplomat's first big social affair since coming to Washington several months ago, and it proved a resounding success.

Equally successful was the elaborate Independence Day party of Liberian Ambassador George Padmore. The entire diplomatic corps and numerous other officials attended, and swept clean a large buffet indoors and another outdoors, plus four bars and a separate champagne bar.

Each of the lavish buffets had as centerpiece a doll in native Liberian costume, holding in one hand the Liberian flag and in the other, the U.S. flag. Feature of both buffets was boiled baracuda, which those who tried it said was "delicious."

Another choice treat for Washington's numerous free-loaders was the handsome party Panama Ambassador de la Guardia gave for newly-named U.S. Ambassador Joseph Farland. Prize attraction of this buffet was Panama's national dish, "tasaajo Panameno," which resembles "boeuf bourguignon," with a tomato base instead of wine.

Another much-relished delicacy was "sopa de gloria," a sort of rum cake — with a lot of rum. Foremost among the guests were Panama's Minister of Public Works Victor Urrutia, Dr. Victor Alfaro, son of Panama's next President, Nicaragua's Ambassador Sevilla Saca, dean of the diplomatic corps, and Army Secretary Wilber Brucker.

Crowe To Preside At 150th Affair

MONTGOMERY F. CROWE will preside over ceremonies marking the 150th Anniversary Celebration of Stroudsburg's Founding on Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in the old cemetery on lower Main St.

The ceremonies will take place at the graves of Daniel and Jacob Stroud. The Chamber of Commerce is cooperating with the Pocono Art Center in the celebration.

Burgesses To Talk
The twin boroughs will be represented by brief remarks by chief burgesses Edward A. Doran and Jesse R. S. Flory, and the main address will be made by Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler, president of the East Stroudsburg State College.

The invocation and benediction will be made by Rev. William Dearn, assistant pastor of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church. The American Legion Color Guard will present the colors.

In the event of rain Sunday, the event will be held in the court room of the Court House. Committee members representing the Chamber of Commerce for the affair are Elwood C. German, Frank E. Lanterman and Dale H. Learn.

Following the services at the cemetery there will be an open house at the old Brown Home at the corner of Brown St. and Braeside Ave., East Stroudsburg.

Built By Browns
The old stone house was built by the Brown family near the turn of 1800s and played a part in the history of Monroe County.

The house was recently purchased by Mrs. Marcia Clapp DeRocco and will serve as a museum, housing reminders of the by-gone days and also the workshop for the Pocono Art Center.

It also will be the first museum of art in Monroe County. Other events scheduled during the month are a tour of several homes built by the Stroud family and other early families and a three-day "Sidewalk Bazaar" on Main Street with the local businessmen in charge.

The store windows will be trimmed with antiques during the bazaar.

Science Program In Area

GENERAL Motors Corp. has been presenting an educational science program, "Previews of Progress," at area resorts and camps during the past two weeks.

It includes a model car run by the power of the sun, tailor-made synthetics, cold-stoves and the story of jet propulsion. The firm estimated that more than 4,400 persons saw the 45-minute, live show presented by Richard Stoltz and John Belohlavek of the GM public relations staff.

Seen At Resorts
It was seen at Pocono Manor Inn, Poconobana Lodge, Sky Line Inn, Vacation Valley, Bushkill Falls House, Pocono Crest, Lenape Village, Unity House and High Point Inn.

It was also seen by members of the Stroudsburg Rotary Club and scouts at Camps Weygadt and Resica.

Man Pinned By Tractor Termed Good

GILBERT — Wilmer Kregar, 39, of near Jonas, was pinned for about two hours under a tractor equipped with a front-end loader after the vehicle tipped over Thursday.

He was reported in good condition last night at Palmerton Hospital, where he is being treated for severe bruises and abrasions of the body. A hospital spokesman said there is no evidence of broken bones.

Operating On Road
According to reports, Kregar was operating the vehicle on a farm road when the accident occurred.

He was treated by Dr. John Martucci of Brodheadsville prior to being taken to the hospital.

Two Officers From Area Head School

TWO area officers rank high on the staff of the U. S. Army Reserve School currently being held at Fort McClellan, Ala., at facilities of the U. S. Army Chemical Corps School.

THE Stroudsburg's National Guard unit, Co. A, First Battle Group, 109th Infantry, will march before Gov. David L. Lawrence today in the annual review by the governor of the Pennsylvania 28th Division National Guard.

The unit is commanded by Capt. Gerald E. Shanley, Jr., while Vincent Marek is first sergeant.

Now undergoing its annual Summer training, the unit left here last Saturday for Indian-town Gap Military Reservation. The platoons were under command of M/Sgt. Elwood Smith,

GOP Group Plans Voter Registration

A MEETING of the Republican Committeemen and Committeewomen of Pocono Mountains was held recently at Quick's Hotel, Tobyhanna. About 60 members were in attendance.

The committee outlined plans for registering of voters and also for the coming election on Nov. 8.

Mrs. Mary Fontanella, vice chairman of Monroe County Republican Committee, told about her voter registration plans for this area. She also stated that regular regional meetings are conducted by her several times a week.

Brief Talks
Several other brief speeches were made by Mrs. Jeanette Batorty, H. L. Cleveland and Parke W. Unanget.

Committee members decided to hold a meeting and rally at a later date. The location, date, and speakers for the affair are to be announced later. Plans for this meeting also include a Square Dance following the completion of the rally.

Plan Study Of State Hospitals

HARRISBURG (AP)—An analyst and an attorney were appointed Friday to make preparations for a comprehensive study of the costs, financing, quality and use of hospitals in Pennsylvania.

State Insurance Commissioner Francis R. Smith, chairman of Gov. Lawrence's hospital study commission, named Edward L. Springer, Pittsburgh attorney, to make legal preparations for the commission.

Paul S. Lunt, Oxford, was selected to survey more than a hundred hospital, labor and community leaders to obtain their views on the score of the commission's work.

Smith said the 44-member commission will be called together this fall to make a detailed outline for the study.

Women Clubs' County Presidents Hold Meeting: Fall Plans Announced

On Thursday, there was a luncheon meeting of the County Presidents or their representatives of the Women's Clubs of the Northeast District of the State of Pennsylvania at the Hotel Sterling in Wilkes-Barre.

Miss Winifred Hammer, northeast district vice president, presided with 17 members present.

Attending from this area were Mrs. Samuel Wells III, president of the Monroe County Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Robert Payne, Monroe County Junior representative of the Federation Extension and Mrs. H. J. Pine Jr.

There isn't a national theme for the year but a purpose, "Responsible, responsive citizenship for survival." The group was reminded that they are not a clubwoman, but a woman working with a club.

All of the Fall county meeting dates and speakers were announced. The Monroe County Federation of Women's Clubs meeting will be held Oct. 24 at the Stroud Community House at 1:30 p.m. with the Women's Club of the Stroudsburgs as the hostess club. At that time, Mrs. Russell Clements, state president, will be the guest.

The new State theme, "All things work together for good" was stressed. It was announced that in the Pennsylvania groups there are 83,199 members belonging to 331 clubs who have contributed $90,701.70 to the Women's Medical College. This project is being continued.

Final plans were made for the district meeting which will be held Sept. 21 in Luzerne County at the Hotel Sterling, Wilkes-Barre.

There will be registration and a coffee hour beginning at 9 a.m. During the morning session there will be a panel discussion given by Mrs. Stewart Mason, Miss Miriam McConnell, Mrs. John C. Lynch and Mrs. Cornelius Coughlin. Following a luncheon there will be entertainments and two addresses by Mrs. Russell Clements and Mrs. Nancy Harlan, junior vice president.

Garden Club Card Party And Flower Show

The regular monthly meeting of the executive board of the Monroe County Garden Club was held on Thursday in the YMCA with the president, Mrs. I. K. Kiffin, presiding.

One new member, Mrs. Matthew Kline was voted into membership.

Mrs. Elwood Grant reported on the Wildflower Scantuary of the Club in LaBar's Nursery. Considerable cleaning up work and plantings have been done by Mrs. Grant, her committee and the nursery and the sanctuary is reported in fine shape now.

Mrs. Russell E. Hamblin, general chairman of the annual card party to be held on Aug. 18, at Shawnee Inn, outlined her plans for the affair. Prizes and refreshments will be awarded as well as prizes for non-players. Proceeds will be put in the planting fund of the club which is used for various civic plantings. Mrs. Hamblin will announce her complete list of chairmen in a few days.

Mrs. Edward C. Knob and Mrs. Elwood Grant were named co-chairman of the classes and entries for the annual flower show to be held at the YMCA on September 15. The show will be open to the public from 4-8:30 p.m. Men of the community are invited to exhibit in an open class featuring flowers, vegeta-

Just Between Us—

—By Bobby Westbrook

Rome — Like a bee gathering honey, I have each day this Summer been collecting unforgettable memories for the winter of my old age. And each day I think to myself "This is something I shall never forget." I will, I suppose, forget a thousand things but one I know I can't forget was tonight's performance of the opera "Aida" in the open air theatre of the Baths of Caracalla.

No music critic, I couldn't argue that this was the best in voices or in orchestra although Verdi's music never sounded better to me. But I will contend that it is probably the most spectacular production in the world in staging, in color, in magnificence and in setting. I've talked about Baths before — in the days of the Roman Republic the places where patricians and citizens alike gathered not only to bathe but to exchange gossip, build up political fences, and to enjoy life.

The Baths of Caracalla date back to 212, and their ruins are probably, next to the colosseum, still the most magnificent in Rome. Last night all roads were leading to them and to the great bank of seats for 10,000 people rising up to the top of the great umbrella pines, gleaming with the unearthly green that trees take on in floodlight. But even 10,000 people were swallowed up against the immensity of the ancient ruins.

The stage was set between only two of the great towers but it is known as the largest stage in the world. And I guess it is. At any rate, it is large enough so that in the triumphal entry scene, a chariot drawn by four horses thundered up on the stage—already occupied by several hundred courtiers, temple virgins and priests, soldiers, trumpeters, dancers, Ethiopian captives, and court.

They stood prancing and rearing, during the songs, pulling the red-robed soldiers who held them off their feet—and as Peter said "getting dirty looks from the soloists," until the victorious Radames finally alighted, the soldiers let go, and their chariot wheeled them in a mighty arc and drove off another way while the chœurs, apparently in imminent danger of being trampled to death, kept right on singing away.

There was also a camel passing through the night scene by the Nile and disappearing into a life-sized forest and a galley rowing up the moonlit river that rippled in the background. If I've made it sound more like a circus than an opera, it was to emphasize the scope of the thing. Camels and horses and whole armies could get lost on that stage.

The audience itself was lost in the music. In fact in the open air under the stars and in the shadow of those mighty ruins they were lost to each other with none of the distracting coughing, shuffling and program-rattling of smaller, en-

Reinharts To Observe Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Reinhart of Brodheadsville will observe their 25th wedding anniversary tomorrow.

The Reinharts were married by Rev. Ray at the "Little Church Around the Corner" in New York City in 1935.

Mrs. Reinhart, the former Emma Felker, is a graduate of Chestnut Hill High School and Jefferson Hospital School of Nursing. As a registered nurse, she does Private Duty Nursing in the Monroe County General Hospital.

Reinhart, a graduate of Palmerton High School, served eight years in the United States Navy. He is a clerk in the State Liquor Store in East Stroudsburg. He also is a part time salesman of aluminum windows and doors.

They have two children, a daughter, Nancy May, a graduate of Chestnut Hill High School and Jefferson Medical College Hospital on whose staff she is now a registered nurse. Their son, Myles Thomas is a tenth grade pupil in Chestnut Hill High School.

Miss LaBar To Wed Local Man

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. LaBar, Saylorburg RD 1, announce the coming marriage of their daughter Martha to Donald C. E. Stout, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. W. Stout, Stroudsburg RD 5.

The wedding will take place at the St. Luke's Methodist Church, McHaney, on Aug. 14, at 4 p.m. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception will be held at the bridegroom's home in McMichael.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend.

THE MAN CALLED PETER RETURNS—

Just as I was putting away the trays in my office after coffee break the other morning, a tall, slender, young man appeared in the doorway and introduced himself as the Rev. Thomas Smiley. He is pastor of the Tobyhanna Methodist Church, and wondered whether or not I recalled writing an article about "A Man Called Peter" about a year ago. At that time a very accomplished actress by the name of Chrystine Coleman was appearing in one of our mountain churches, presenting dramatized excerpts from the inspiring book by Catherine Marshall.

I did recall my article, and my disappointment at being unable to hear the program. The Rev. Smiley smiled, "Perhaps you can hear her this year. She's going to be at my church this Sunday evening, August 7th, at 8 o'clock."

This news should be very gratifying to all Tobyhanna Methodists and other Monroe Countians, as well as to the many summer visitors in this area who would enjoy an evening of memorable import, at NO CHARGE. There is no ticket sale, Rev. Smiley says, only a silver offering.

Miss Coleman teaches dramatics in New England and is, I am told, a woman of great charm. The book she has selected for her dramatization is charming too . . . more than that it is a book everyone can understand because it portrays all the basic, fundamental emotions every human being begins living from the time he begins drawing breath. It is a story of man's need for God . . . and God's call to man. It is a story of man's love for a woman—and her love for him. It is a story of the climb to success . . . and finally, it is a story of death, with the promise of eternal life. Because it is all these things, "The Man Called Peter" has been a best seller since its publication . . . it is one of those books that has become a classic in our time. If you have not read it, or seen the motion picture, by all means make the acquaintance of Peter. Buy a copy of the book from Wyckoff's . . . and hear Miss Coleman Sunday evening.

Harking back to the silver offering which is the only admission charge at Sunday evening's performance, I am reminded of a story that appeared in a recent magazine, Reader's Digest perhaps. Seems there was a silver dollar that constantly looked down upon its neighbor, a lowly penny. Whenever the opportunity presented itself, the dollar would pointedly remark that it was much more important than the penny. "I am one hundred times better than you," it would declare. Eventually the penny could take no more. "I know," it sighed wistfully. "You are a hundred times better than I—but I'll tell you one thing, I go to church a great deal more frequently than you."

As any minister will tell you, the penny was—sadly enough—correct. I hope when the Tobyhanna Methodists present Chrystine Coleman, the pennies will stay home from church, and more of the silver dollars put in an appearance. Don't you?

Antique Show Wednesday Items Featured For All

The sixteenth Annual Pocono Mountains Antique Show will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 1 to 10 p.m. at East Stroudsburg State College, East Stroudsburg. This Antique Show is annually produced by the women's auxiliary of the Monroe County General Hospital.

The Pocono Mountain Antique Show is one of the largest and oldest Summer Antique Shows in the East.

This year there will be a special emphasis on authentic Early American, Pennsylvania Dutch and Federal and Victorian furniture.

For glass collectors there are some fine pieces of Steigl, Mary Gregory, signed Steuben, Tiffany, Hawkes, Dorfflinger etc.

For decorators or those who love beautiful colored and art glass, there are displays of Cranberry Blues, Vaseline, Ruby, Green, Amethyst, Amber, Rubina, Burmese, Satin, Milk, Amberina, as well as cut and pattern glass.

The men collectors will be happy with the display of powder flasks, bullet making tools, guns, metlock steins, coins, iron banks, toys, old magic lantern slides and early American primitives in tools.

There will be an exhibit of dolls to make any woman collector or child pleased.

There are booths of exquisite China; French Lemoge, Servis; English Bon Chelsea, Lowestoft; Royal Worcester, Crown Derby, German Royal Crown Vena, Meissen; Rose Medallion and Canton of China; Satsuma (The Emperors China) and Inoia of Japan; as well as the ever popular Ironstone, Majolica, and soft paste pottery of Wedgwood.

Two dealers, one from New York and one from Pennsylvania will have a collection of antique jewelry, with a variety of articles priced to please and fit any pocketbook.

In all, there are thirty-nine dealers displaying at the Antique Show, from Virginia, Western and Eastern Pennsylvania, New York, and New Jersey.

Weeks of preparation have been undertaken by members of the hospital auxiliary to help make the coming antique show a success.

In addition to committee chairmen who have worked hard the following will also be busy at the show: Hostesses, Mrs. T. J. Breitwieser, Mrs. Elmer Christine, Mrs. Elton Chappala, Mrs. Russell Cramer, Mrs. John Dunkelberger, Mrs. C. W. Duppe, Mrs. Henry Hefele, Miss Ellen Hoffman, Mrs. A. A. Eight Mariner Scouts Enter Area By Canoe

Yesterday afternoon, eight Mariner Scouts from Troop 153 in Williamsport arrived in the Delaware Water Gap section of the Delaware River.

The eight girls and their two leaders left from Milford in five canoes on Tuesday night. The three day trip offered only one day of rain; however, on the one day of rain, ten people were crowded into a small supply tent.

"We would look for white water and then head for it," said one of the scouts. They meant they were fascinated by the rough waters of rapids. For a real thrill, the girls emptied each of the canoes of their two forty pound packs at the Delaware Water Gap and headed for the rapids in Portland.

"No one in Milford will believe what rapids they were,"

said a wide eyed mariner.

The girls will return by car to Camp Lyoogis, the Girl Scout Camp of Lycoming County today. They are the only mariner troop in Williamsport and the first in Lycoming County to venture on the river.

Many troops of both boys and girls from other scout troops were met along the journey. "One group of boys from Camp Den helped us when it rained and wanted us to cook their dinner but they beat us to it."

In order to go on the trip, the girls ranging in age from 15-17, had to pass a swimming, canoeing and life saving test. Upon completion of their trip they will receive their canoeing badges.

The first day, with two girls in each canoe, they covered 25 miles and the second day saw

Nurse's Cap Represents Alma Mater

IT MAY seem a bit foolish to publicize the backs of women's heads, but our photographer Roderick G. MacLeod came up with the little-known fact that a registered nurse's cap signifies her Alma Mater.

This is the reason for this third in a series of various nurses' caps. The photographs were made at Monroe County General Hospital, East Stroudsburg.

The hospital has on its staff nurses representing 39 different institutions. Each nursing school has its own fixed creation which the nurse wears with pride.

Perhaps it never occurs to observers but there is beauty in these intricate designs and fashions of cap styles. But it can only be found by knowing about it.

Each nurse knows it, for each and every headpiece is the result of many years of painstaking study and labor.

The cap represents the end of a long road to the nursing career.

On Monday, The Daily Record will present its fourth of this series.

Murder Trial Site Changed

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Elmo Smith will be taken to Adams County prison in Gettysburg soon for his trial on a charge of murdering a 16-year-old school girl.

President Judge William E. Dannehower issued an order Friday directing that Smith be sent to Gettysburg not less than four days before his trial starts in that city on Aug. 22.

The former Bridgeport handyman is accused of sexually abusing and killing Maryann Mitchell last December.

He was granted a change of venue on the ground that he would not get a fair trial here because of adverse publicity.

He had been managing editor of the Times before leaving Frankfort in 1947.

Art Exhibit Opens Today

THE Pocono Mountains Art Group and any interested persons are invited to exhibit at the two-day outdoor art show today and Sunday at the Briar Heath Antique shop in Snyder'sville.

Frank and Mona Fitzgerald, owners of the shop, are sponsoring the show, which will be all day both days.

STILL WORKING—is Mike Suder of Philadelphia, driver of the wrecked tractor-trailer, as he unloads truck. The cases and barrels of beer were reloaded into another trailer and sent on to its destination. The trailer landed on its side yesterday after skidding on wet highway on Route 115 near Ross Common in Ross Township. The onlookers are unidentified.

Tractor-Trailer Overtakes On Route 115 In Ross Twp.

STATE POLICE from the Stroudsburg barracks reported the accident of a tractor-trailer on Route 115 in Ross Township yesterday at 4 a.m.

The truck was driven by Michael J. Suder, of Philadelphia, police said he was not injured. Suder told police he was traveling north on Route 115 and when he applied his breaks the trailer "whipped" around on the wet highway. The truck left the highway and over-turned.

Publisher Moves To Frankfort

FRANKFORT, Ind. (AP)—Tom Heth, editor and publisher of the Daily News at Carbondale, Pa., has been named editor and publisher of the Frankfort Morning Times, succeeding his late father-in-law, Max Fowler.

'PA' System Installed At Church

GREENTOWN — A new public address system, including loud speakers, and four ear phones to be placed in the pews, will be in service at Hemlock Grove Methodist Church Sunday morning, August 7.

For many years, it was the dream of Harry Grimm, who served his church as a member of the official board for thirty years, that just such a system be inaugurated so that those who had difficulty in hearing could be aided.

On November 14, 1959, Harry Grimm died. A fund, called the Harry Grimm Memorial Fund, was started through spontaneous contributions of his family and friends. The fund was used to purchase the equipment.

Did Work
Electronic work was done by Edward S. Parsons, Jr., Cron Electric did the electrical work. George Lee built a cabinet to contain the amplifier.

The concern felt by Harry Grimm and the response of his fellow churchmen, family and friends, have made possible the new facilities at the church of which the Rev. Arthur B. Campney is pastor.

Palmer Not Eligible For Ryder Team

PALMER, who is not a PGA member but only an Approved Player, is not eligible for the Ryder Cup team.

Nick Patella of East Stroudsburg, the number three guard on the New York Titan's entry in the American Football League, is in Los Angeles, where the Titans open their exhibition football season tonight against the L. A. Chargers.

Patella has been named to the kick-off, punting and punt return teams and also will work at an offensive guard spot.

The Titan's first and second guards, Bob Mishak and John McMullin both have played professionally before, Mishak with the Giants and McMullin with the Eagles.

Richard Kinder, whose dad is the golf professional at Glen Brook Country Club, has returned to Stroudsburg after a four-year hitch in the Air Force, three of them in Germany.

Groat Had Big Basketball Day

Dick Groat, the Pittsburgh Pirates' captain and former basketball great once scored 126 points in one day.

Playing with a Washington, D. C., professional squad, The Sklar Stars, Groat, who starred collegiately at Duke, dumped in 67 points in an afternoon game, then drove to Hagerstown, Md., and hit 59 points for another pro team.

The Washington team Groat played for, also featured Cliff Hagen, now with the St. Louis Hawks. The club lost only twice in two years, once to the Syracuse Nationals in overtime and by five points to the Minneapolis Lakers.

Wall Going Great In Off Year

In a supposedly off year, Art Wall, touring pro from Pocono Manor, has won $21,030.64 in Professional Golf Assn. prize money.

According to statistics released by the PGA Thursday, Wall is in 12th place, with Arnold Palmer on top with $68,728.40 in the bank.

A third Pennsylvanian, Mike Souchak from Berwick, is fourth and Gary Player, the South African, who plays out of Langhorne, C. C. is 21st.

Jay Hebert's win in the PGA at Akron boosted his bank balance to $31,002.75 and seventh place in the standings.

Sixth In Vardon Trophy Race

And Wall is sixth in the race for the Vardon Trophy, given to the circuit pro with the lowest stroke average. In 64 rounds, Wall, who won the Anthracite Open at Moscow a non-PGA event with a 65 Monday has averaged 70.859.

To be eligible to win the Vardon Trophy the golfer must have a minimum of 60 rounds. Dick Metz, the PGA senior champion, leads the race with a 69.500 slate but has shot only four rounds and it is unlikely he will get in the minimum number. The same is true of Sam Snead and club professional Jack Harden, both above Wall in the standings.

Wall has a strong chance to make the Ryder Cup team, that will meet a squad of British pros next year. The top eight native born PGA members will represent this country. Wall is seventh now.

Red Sports Official Sees Olympics As Strength Test

MOSCOW (AP) — A top Soviet Olympic official said Friday he thought keen athletic rivalry between the Soviet Union and the United States was a healthy situation and encouraged greater sports attainments.

In an exclusive Associated Press interview, Konstantin Andrianov, chairman of the Soviet Olympic Committee, said he disagreed with moves in some quarters to discourage strong nationalism in the Olympic games.

"Other countries see the rivalry between two strong athletic nations and try to build their own programs to greater strength," Andrianov said.

"I think that is a good thing." In his fourth floor walk-up office in the official Soviet Olympic headquarters, the balding, round-faced official predicted even greater triumphs for the Soviet team at Rome than in 1956 at Melbourne and intimated he is sure the Russians would harvest more than a hundred medals.

At Melbourne, the Russians collected 38 medals — gold, silver and bronze — which was 24 more than the runner-up, the United States.

"In 1956 we had 16 million athletes," Andrianov said. "This year we have 23 million."

Andrianov's views on team rivalries contrasted with those of Deputy Chairman A. S. Plesyakov who said last week he expected no national rivalries at Rome.

The Olympic chief said the Russians recognize U.S. track supremacy in the sprint races and such specialties as the high jump, shot put and hammer throw. The Russians are eager to counteract that with superiority in distance races and women's events.

"And we expect to win many medals again in gymnastics," he added. "Gymnastics are our national sport. We believe gymnastics lead to championships in other sports."

Andrianov said he is in wholehearted agreement with the proposal of Albert Mayer, Swiss member of the International Olympic Committee, who favors legalizing state-sponsored athletes and payments to athletes for loss of time away from work.

MRS. Charles Norelli, Mrs. Joseph Wallace and Mrs. Stiles Baldwin, won class honors in the Sam Kinder Day Golf Tournament at Glen Brook Country Club Thursday.

Mrs. Norelli won the Class A low gross award with an 85, while Mrs. Wallace shot a 102, the low gross in Class B. Mrs. Baldwin's 107 was the Class C low gross.

Low net honors went to Betty Peeney, Class A; 76; Mrs. Gant Nitrauer, Class B, 78 and Mrs. Nevin Nonnemacher, Class C, 74.

Keifer Wins The nine-hole tournament was won by Mrs. Murrel Keifer with a 55. Low putts for 18-holes were recorded by Mrs. Norelli, 28 and Mrs. Keifer won the nine-hole low putts awards with 15.

The Kinder Day scores also served as qualifying for the ladies' club championship.

The eight qualifiers for the championship flight are Mrs. Norelli, 85; Miss Peeney, 88; Mrs. Wallace, 102; Mrs. J. Lazo, 106; Mrs. G. Nitrauer, 106; Mrs. Baldwin, 107; Mrs. Jess Haynes, 109 and Mrs. Nonnemacher, 109.

The first flight ladies are, Mrs. W. McClelland, 111; Mrs. S. Fansler, 116; Mrs. J. Cohen, 117; Mrs. J. Krueger, 118; Mrs. M. Rockwell, 119; Mrs. A. Lock-itch, 126; Mrs. R. Schell, 134; and Mrs. W. Hinton, 136.

For Slugging Brewer

Martin Fined $500 And Suspended For Five Days

CINCINNATI (AP)—National League President Warren C. Giles Friday fined Cincinnati Reds' second baseman Billy Martin $500 and suspended him for five days as a result of his fight Thursday with Chicago Cubs' pitcher Jim Brewer.

Brewer suffered a serious face injury and is out of baseball for at least a month and possibly for the rest of the season.

Dr. Arthur Metz, Cubs' physician, said the orbit bone below Brewer's right eye is fractured. He is to undergo surgery Saturday.

Giles announced his decision after a day-long investigation of the incident. He said he conferred with the four umpires who worked in the game at Chicago and with "four other disinterested parties."

He declined to say who the "disinterested parties" were and declined to amplify the ruling. "The telegram speaks for itself," he said of the message to Martin.

The telegram said: "For your conduct in the second inning of your game at Chicago Aug. 4, you are fined the sum of $500 and suspended for five days, Aug. 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9."

Martin claimed Brewer was throwing at his head.

The fight came after a pitch by Brewer caused Martin to duck away. The ball caromed off Martin's bat and hit his helmet.

On Brewer's next pitch, Martin swung and his bat went flying toward the mound. As Martin went out to retrieve the bat, Brewer came walking to him. Suddenly Martin let fly with a right to the pitcher's face.

Other players wrestled the two to the ground. After returning to the dugout, Brewer got the handle of a broken bat and started toward Martin. Teammates halted him.

Martin was banished from the game and he later said: "Brewer threw at my head and nobody is going to do that. I was in the hospital last year when I got hit in the face and had seven fractures."

"Nobody is going to throw at my head again. That first pitch by Brewer was behind my head and Cub pitchers knocked me down three times Wednesday."

No Throw Martin also claimed he did not throw the bat at Brewer but that it slipped out of his hands. Brewer claimed he only asked Martin if he wanted to fight.

Brewer's injury was the most serious suffered in a player fight since Bill Dickey broke Carl Reynolds' jaw about 30 years ago. Dickey was fined $1,000 and suspended for 30 days.

The fiery Martin often has been involved in player fights.

While with the New York Yankees he twice was in fights with Clint Courtney, now a catcher with the Baltimore Orioles.

He has had run-ins with Jimmy Piersall and was in a White Sox-Yankee scuffle in 1957.

Giles' order directed that Martin pay the fine personally and that he not be reimbursed either directly or indirectly by the Reds.

In St. Louis, Martin said bitterly, "I think I've been dealt with very unfairly by Mr. Giles."

"The fight wasn't my fault. I intend to appeal this to the baseball commissioner (Ford Frick). I'm sure he'll give me a hearing. After all, he's supposed to represent the players, too, isn't he?"

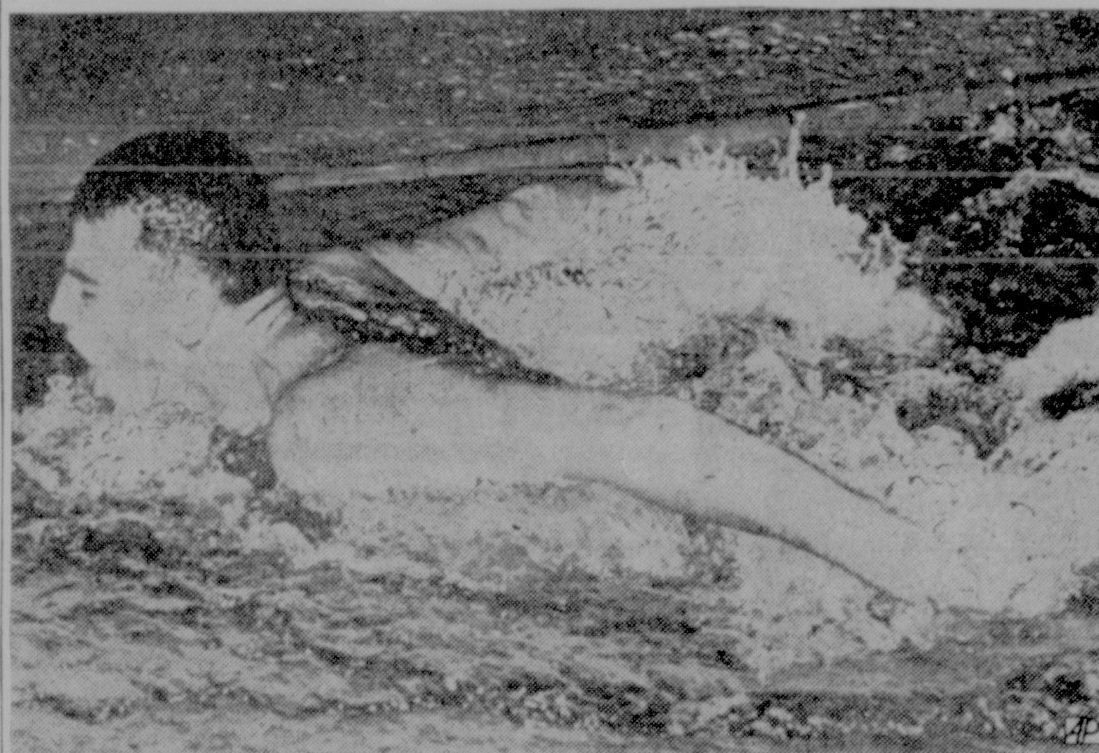

Sends Telegram Martin later said he had sent a telegram to Giles requesting a hearing in order that he might tell his version of the incident. This action apparently was taken instead of his earlier announcement that he would appeal directly to Frick.

WIFE COMFORTS INJURED HURLER — Patsy Brewer places ice pack on face of her injured husband, Chicago Cubs pitcher Jim Brewer, in Wesley Memorial Hospital in Chicago. He suffered a fractured eye orbit bone when he was struck by Billy Martin of the Reds earlier in day. Martin charged the mound after complaining Brewer was pitching too close.

Martin recalled that it was "one year ago today that I was hit in Washington and suffered a fractured cheek bone — had to have two operations."

"All I was doing was protecting myself," the Cincinnati infielder said. Martin charged that Giles had predicted in the spring that he couldn't do well with the Reds.

Pope Wins High Dive

Von Saltza Leads Mass Break On Swim Records

DETROIT (AP) — Powerful Chris Von Saltza broke the women's freestyle world record for 400 meters in completing a double-slam in the U.S. Olympic swimming and diving trials Friday night.

The tall, 16-year-old school girl from Saratoga, Calif., was timed in 4 minutes, 44.5 seconds, breaking all listed and pending records.

The time shattered the record of 4:47.2 recognized by the International Swimming Federation and the pending mark of 4:45.4 set by Ilsa Konrads of Australia last Jan. 9 in Sydney.

Second place was taken by Carolyn House, a slight 14-year-old 10th grader from Los Angeles in 4:55.1.

Stays In Front Chris led all the way and finished about 20 yards in front.

It was the third world record set in the Olympic trials and established the statuesque California schoolgirl as a powerful threat to the Australians in the Olympic Games starting in Rome Aug. 25.

Chris thus completed a double-slam along with diver Paula Myers Pope and freestyler Alan Somers in the final day of the trials to determine the makeup of the U.S. team.

Miss Von Saltza won the 100-meter freestyle Wednesday night after setting an American record of 1:01.3 in a qualifying heat on Tuesday.

The other world records were set Thursday. Mike Troy of Indianapolis bettered his own world standard in the 200-meter butterfly with a time of 2:13.2 in the final of that event. Lynn Burke, a 17-year-old New Yorker, beat the world mark in the 100-meter backstroke heats with a time of 1:10 flat.

The world record time of 4:47.2 was established as a mark to beat by the International Swim Federation when it decreed that all world marks had to be made in a 50-meter or 55-yard pool. Chris had beaten that mark herself with an American record of 4:46.9 in the National AAU Championships at Indianapolis last July 17.

Somers nosed out Olympian George Breen in the 1,500-meter freestyle final and both made the Olympic team in the event.

Somers, a 19-year-old sophomore from Indiana University, had earned a place on the Rome-bound team last Wednesday night by capturing the 400-meter freestyle. Breen, third in the 400 and 1500 of the 1956 Olympics, had failed in the 400.

Both were timed in 17:40.0. It took the judges about 10 minutes to figure who had touched first.

Set Record Breen, a brawny, 25-year-old school teacher from Indianapolis, set the American record of 17:33.5 for the 1500, 120 yards less than a mile in winning the national AAU title at Toledo last July 22.

Ray Saari of the El Segundo School, S.C., was third in 18:00.3, followed by Brian Foss of San Leandro, Calif., Winston Pendleton and Warren Uhler, both of the Detroit A.C., Roy Bury of Detroit, and Tom Bucy of the Los Angeles A.C.

Paula Myers Pope of Glendora, Calif., also scored a double slam when she won the platform diving final with another veteran Olympian, Mrs. June Irwin, of Los Angeles second.

Mrs. Pope had won the springboard dive earlier.

4-Point Margin Mrs. Pope won the diving off the 10-meter, 33-foot platform with 90.48 points. Mrs. Irwin had 86.44. Karla Klump of the Los Angeles A.C. was third with 81.90 points.

Bob Webster, a 21-year-old Michigan senior from Santa Ana, Calif., won the men's platform diving with 166.56 points. Gary Tobian, the Olympic veteran who had captured the springboard final, finished second and earned a double place on the Olympic team. Tobian had 159.69 points.

Ron O'Brien of Ohio State was third with 154.57 and Don Harper, silver medalist in the Olympic springboard, was fourth in the final field of eight with 151.19.

Squeeze Bunt Pushes Birds Over Tribe

CLEVELAND (AP) — Johnny Temple squeezed home the winning run with a neat bunt in the seventh inning Friday night as Cleveland beat Baltimore 4-3, presenting Jimmie Dykes with a victory in his managerial debut here.

With the score tied 3-3, Red Wilson opened the winning rally with a double to left field. Pitcher Jim Perry sacrificed on a bunt to third as Wilson moved up a base.

Then as Wilson raced for the plate, Temple bunted midway toward the mound and pitcher Chuck Estrada only had a play at first base.

Perry Wins

Perry (13-5) was the winner, although Johnny Klippstein came on to pitch the final inning. Estrada (11-6), pitched seven innings, with Wes Stock hurling in the eighth. Perry's triumph made him the winningest pitcher in the league.

A happy crowd of 24,275 watched the Indians put two victories back-to-back for the first time since July 15.

The Orioles, on the other hand, saw their five-game winning string snapped.

Knight Leads Insurance

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP)—Dick Knight, who shared the opening round lead in the 1959 National Open, Friday set the pace at the halfway mark in the 72-hole Insurance City Open Golf Tournament. His 36-hole total was a nine-under-par 133, after rounds of 66-67.

Trailing by one stroke Thursday behind Bob Rosburg, Knight found the wet fairways and greens to his liking Friday. He collected four birdies in a dazzling display of shots.

Five In 2nd One stroke behind the 30-year-old, 5-foot-10, 160-pound tourist from Apple Valley, Calif., were Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., and Jack Flick of Los Angeles. And not too far away were Ken Venturi of Palo Alto, Calif., Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., and Bill Collins of Crystal River, Fla., 135a.

Rosburg slipped from his 65 of Thursday to a 74 for a 139 total. He did not like the moist course.

Monday Only, Scalp Specialists In Easton, Penna. Will Show How To Save Hair And Prevent Baldness

Monday, Aug. 8, at the Easton Hotel in Easton, Pa., Staff Director, Mr. J. L. Thomas will give free hair and scalp consultation between 1 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. to hair worried men and women.

Erickson Hair and Scalp Specialists, the oldest and largest organization of its kind makes regular visits to Easton, Pa.

"fuzz." You can easily follow this new modern method in the privacy of your home.

In a great majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss (a condition described as male pattern baldness), we know of no treatment including the Erickson treatment that is of value. None of the persons shown have male pattern baldness.

Guaranteed 12 Months Erickson Hair and Scalp Specialists accept only those who will respond. If you are accepted, you will be given a written guarantee for the length of treatment recommended, or up to 12 months. Don't be skeptical—this guarantee alone assures you of success. So, why put off your hair problem any longer?

If you now, or have in the past, noticed dandruff, itchy scalp, excessive oiliness or dryness, excessive hair fall or thinning at the temples or crown, you should see Mr. J. L. Thomas Monday. He will determine the type of individual treatment required, explain to you what results you can expect, how long you will have to use Erickson treatment, and how much the cost will be, which is usually less than imitators.

FREE CONSULTATION There is absolutely no charge or obligation for your free hair and scalp consultation. The only obligation is to yourself, to save your hair and gain more coverage if your "hair factory" is still producing even

For your free hair and scalp consultation, go to the Easton Hotel between 1 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. on Aug. 8 and ask the room clerk for Mr. J. L. Thomas' room number, or call him. He does not make appointments, so come at your convenience. Consultations are given in private. You will not be embarrassed in any way.

Pocono Archers Seek Lead

THE POCONO'S top field archers invaded the Bowmanstown Archery range Sunday afternoon in an effort to move into the lead of the Tri-County Conference League.

The race for the league's trophy is being led by the Bowmanstown club which moved out front early in the season and managed to stay on top throughout. The Pocono Archers narrowed the lead in each successive shoot and are now within 15 points of the leaders.

By dumping the host club out of first place, or by keeping the host club's lead at a minimum, the Pocono bowmen could capture the league title when the last scheduled meet is held on the Stroudsburg range on August 28.

Tournament shooters for the local club have been showing excellent form in "warm-up" or practice rounds shot through the week. Paul Daily and Rudy Bomser, shooting in the Expert AA division, have been running close competitive scores during mid-week sessions.

Style Change

James Banks, Expert A, with a revised style and change of equipment has been shooting scores above 400 which should see him advance to the Expert AA division if this figure is attained, while competing in tournament shoots approved by the Pocono Archery Association.

3 Features Set Saturday At Nazareth

THE biggest night in the history of automobile racing at the Nazareth Fairgrounds, will take place this Sunday night at 8:15, when the management presents a double-header stock car show with an unprecedented three 25-lap feature events.

The three 25-lap features—a marathon of speed—was worked out this week by Producer Jerry Fried in an effort to keep the stock cars that pour into his track in action. Last Sunday night Nazareth had 90 racers—an all time record high—and another banner turnout is assured for this Sunday night.

The star attraction will be the two 25-lap features in the sportsman—modified division—the fastest stock car classification, and headlining outstanding speed merchants that include Al Tasnady, Jack McLaughlin, Bud Olson, Frankie Schneider, Bob Weismeyer, Bill Wark, Otto Harvi, Ken Wismer, Freddy Fehr, Freddy Adams, George Sleight, Hook Schablie, Harry Charles, Bill Deskovich, Jim Metzler and dozens of others.

The racing show will include a complete strictly stock car program, with four heats and a 25-lap feature, and then a complete sportsman—modified show with four heats, and the two 25-lap feature events. The racing purse has been increased substantially for the triple 25-lap program.

The key winners in the strictly stock cars have been Bill Tan-zosh and Mario Andretti, both of Nazareth, and in the heavy-weight class of stocks the recent hotshot has been Tasnady, who holds both the 10-lap and the 25-lap record which he set in recent weeks.

The Nazareth track—a one-half mile calcimined speedrome—will be given complete inspection on Sunday afternoon so that when the racers go into action at 8:15 p.m., every precautionary measure will be in effect.

The night's show will include a minimum of 155 laps of speed—which is just about 80 actual miles of racing competition on the Nazareth track.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day if it is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Draw Recorded In Bantamweight

TOKYO (AP) — Leo Espinosa, 117½, of the Philippines battered Japan's Kenji Yonekura, 113, in a final wild flurry but was held to a draw in a twelve round attempt to win back the Orient bantamweight title Thursday night.

Espinosa, who scored from the fourth round on with short counter punching, slammed in repeated lefts and rights to the head in the final round. Officials did not see it as providing enough margin to lift the crown he lost to Yonekura in Tokyo last Jan. 6 by decision.

Dykes Signs; Hopes For '61

CLEVELAND (AP) — Veteran baseball manager Jimmie Dykes signed Friday his contract to manage the Cleveland Indians for the remainder of the current season.

General Manager Frank Lane announced the signing shortly after Dykes arrived at the club's headquarters from Detroit. The Cleveland trader already had assured Dykes that if the Tribe shows a "distinct improvement" in its last 53 games he would be given "every consideration for 1961."

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

SATURDAY, AUGUST 6, 1960

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Some helpful, pleasant vibrations still linger from yesterday's fine Mars aspect. Work with that in mind but do not go too far in any direction. Know your boundaries and where to stop.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Promising Venus vibrations. Tune up your artistic talent and let new glamour where it will enhance the sensibility of your work or output. You have assets suitable to today.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Avoid obstructing things such as arguments, needless bickering. Day can be constructive, bring blessings if handled right and unselfishly. Where there is time for rest and relaxing, take it.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Personal woes and matters may have to wait their more advantageous turn today. Activities of a broad nature are in the foreground. Enjoy children's interests, neighborly affairs.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Self-restraint and more conservative action needed in many instances. Today can be tricky for difficult propositions unless you show your resources in separating the valuable from the insignificant.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — Similar tendencies now to Gemini. Be alert but not suspicious or too skeptical. Day responsive to all sincere efforts, of nobel and valuable suggestions and ideas. Be alert, listen.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Fine, wholesome outlook on whole. Be in with all worthy and useful or recreational plans and ideas. Interchange good fun with work and study. Don't irritate at tedious details or tasks.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio) — No extremes now! Quiet reasoning and serene action are your best bet. Stock competent advice or help if required but also follow your own good intuition. Make time for rest, relaxation.

November 24 to December 31 (Sagittarius) — Keep a sensibly tight hold on purse-strings today, tendency to be carelessness. Essential tasks, home affairs need their quota of attention. Avoid needless extra work, but do the necessary.

December 32 to January 30 (Capricorn) — Activating, favorable. Handing machinery, necessary building road construction favored. Progress is in the air and must be heeded. Don't overdo but do your share.

January 31 to February 19 (Aquarius) — Uranus stresses forward thought, patience before entering new and unknown propositions or ventures. We can get ahead first as well by first ascertaining where we are going and is it advantageous.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — Excelsional good vibrations for your particular work and activities. Be in the swim of things, only cautious not to overdo. You have talent for many things you may not suspect—try them.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — YOU'RE RIGHT TODAY! Naturally kind, warm-hearted and above talent. Have both ability and talent for many kinds of work and undertakings. May have to curb enthusiasm and quick action—think! Your natural talents should be polished and used in all instances where they can be of service. Keep interested in local and national affairs, aid charity functions also. You have great entertaining qualities. Keep improving them daily; they can be mixed with business to great advantage. Never neglect your duties. Birthdate: Daniel O'Connell, Irish statesman known as the "Liberator." Lord Alfred Tennyson, English poet.
